

THREE SLIGHTLY HURT IN ACCIDENT

Baltimore & Ohio Freight Locomotive Turns Over Two Miles East of New Albany.

ENGINEER J. E. ALLEN HURT

Engine Thrown to Its Side When It Ran Off "D" Rail—Track Torn For Some Distance.

J. E. Allen, engineer of Baltimore & Ohio freight, second No. 80, C. J. Corbett, fireman, and E. G. Green, brakeman, narrowly escaped serious injuries early today when the locomotive turned over two miles east of New Albany when it ran off of a "D" rail. The accident was on the Louisville branch of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. The three men jumped from the cab when they found that the engine was going over on its side. It is not believed that any of them suffered serious injuries. George Loyd was conductor of the train.

Fireman Corbett jumped and after he hit the ground some coal rolled from the tender and struck him, resulting in painful but not serious bruises. The accident occurred shortly after midnight.

The train was moving at an estimated speed of eighteen miles an hour, it is stated. Several freight cars loaded with merchandise were derailed and the track was torn up for a considerable distance.

The steam derrick owned by the Southern Railway was called to the scene of the accident to aid in clearing the track. Baltimore & Ohio trackmen were also sent to New Albany to repair the track so that the trains could be moved as soon as possible.

The members of the crew who were injured five in Louisville, although Engineer Allen is a former resident of this city. All of them are well known here.

The local emergency crew of the company was called to Milan about 2 o'clock this morning to clear the track following a small wreck near that place. The wreck occurred when an extra westbound train pulling thirty-six cars of coal broke in two. An engine was pushing the train and when the draw bar broke, a caboose was crushed. No one was injured.

It was also reported here today that a rear end collision occurred on the Pennsylvania bridge near Warsaw this morning and that the bridge caught fire. Little damage was done and traffic was delayed a short time, it is reported.

LIGHT DOCKET FOR DECEMBER TERM

Five Weeks' Session of Circuit Court Will Convene at Brownstown Next Monday.

FEW CRIMINAL CASES FILED

Seven Divorce Cases Have Been Filed With County Clerk Since Last Term.

The docket for the December term of circuit court which convenes at the court house in Brownstown next Monday for a five weeks session is exceptionally light, according to Willard Stout county clerk. Several new cases have been filed since the close of the October term of court. The docket for the term contains no important state cases and at present H. L. McCord, county sheriff, has no prisoners in the county jail awaiting trial in circuit court.

A case has been filed in circuit court by Fred Beard against Ralph Thompson for $250 damages. The complaint alleges that on October 30, 1919, the plaintiff was driving southward from Indianapolis, near Greenwood, in a roadster and that defendant was driving northward in another machine. It is charged that the defendant ran his car against the plaintiffs, badly damaging same. The case will likely come to trial during the December term.

Stella Johnson has filed suit in circuit court in which she seeks to enjoin Joel Johnson from trespassing on her land and to collect $2,000 for corn and timber which he is all-

EBNER ICE PLANT IS DAMAGED BY FLAMES

Walls in The Elevator Shaft Catch Fire—Loss Estimated at About $75.

The Ebner Ice Plant was damaged by fire early this morning when the walls in the elevator shaft caught on fire. The damage is estimated at about $75 which is fully covered by insurance.

The fire is believed to have been started from fire in some shavings used in thawing out a water pipe in the shaft. The fire was discovered by members of the day force when they went to work this morning. A silent fire alarm was turned in and the firemen responded immediately working for sometime before freeing the building from the danger of a serious fire. The fire had been smoldering for several hours before being discovered. It was necessary to cut a hole in the walls to get to the blaze. Carpenters will be employed immediately to repair the elevator shaft according to Moore manager of the ice plant today.

COPY OF OFFICIAL ORDER RECEIVED

Garfield Rules Governing The Use of Coal Provides for a Few Changes in This City.

POOL ROOMS ARE AFFECTED

May Use Electric Lights Only From 7 to 11 P. M.—Stores May Keep Open Evenings Next Week.

Copies of the official coal conservation order which was issued a few days ago by the federal fuel administration were received today by J. T. Jones, a local representative of the fuel administration. The text of the order is identical with that given to the press associations earlier in the week and published in full in The Republican Tuesday. Mr. Jones was instructed to distribute the orders to the press, city officials and heads of the civic bodies here.

As soon as the order was received by Mr. Jones he conferred with Mayor C. W. Burkart relative to the changes which would be necessary here. They interpreted the order to mean that only a few modifications would be required in this city. It is explained that the merchants voluntarily adopted certain conservation rules before the federal fuel administration.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY TO RESUME STRIKE PROBE

To Investigate Charges That Operators Violated The Anti-Trust Laws.

By United Press Indianapolis, December 11—With the coal strike ended the government today turned its attention towards the federal grand jury investigation of alleged unlawful activities of the mine operators during the war. Subpenas were sent from the federal building here today calling witnesses to testify before special grand jury which will convene next Wednesday. It will investigate information that the mine owners did not run their mines last summer before the strike was called and that they violated the anti-trust laws. The information was laid before district Judge Anderson by L. Ert Slack, district attorney, and his assistant, Dan Sims. About fifty witnesses including miners and operators, were here last Monday to testify, but the session was postponed until December 17.

Gus Breitfield, who has been spending a few days in this city the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Breitfield, left this morning for San Francisco, Calif. He was accompanied home by Arch Breitfield.

FILE PETITION TO FORM NEW COMPANY

Local Capitalists Perfect Plans to Organize Southern Indiana Telephone and Telegraph Co.

CAPITALIZATION OF $500,000

Seymour Mutual Company One of The Eight to be Taken Over—Price of $80,000 is Designated.

By United Press Indianapolis, Dec. 11—Permission to purchase eight southern Indiana telephone companies was asked in a petition filed with the public service commission today by five men who propose to form a company to be known as The Southern Indiana & Telegraph Company for the operation of these properties.

The petitioners are: J. B. Thompson, H. H. Carter, J. V. Richart, J. H. Andrews and L. C. Griffiths, of Seymour.

The following are the companies and amounts the petitioners are to pay for each:

- Home Telephone Company of Brownstown, $32,000.
- Scott County Telephone Company of Scottsburg, $31,000.
- Seymour Mutual Telephone Company of Seymour, $80,000.
- Butler Telephone Company of Butler, $1,500.
- North Vernon and Vernon Telephone Co., North Vernon, $42,000.
- Home Telephone Company, Bicknell, $32,500.
- Jennings County Telephone Company, $14,000.
- Lexington & Little York Telephone Company, $7,000.

The petitioners also ask authority to issue $300,000 in common stock to cover the purchase price of the various companies and to issue $200,000 in 7 percent, preferred stock and $45,000 in seven percent, short term notes. The companies affected also filed petitions to sell.

L. C. Griffiths, president of the Seymour Mutual Company, announced about two weeks ago that the organization of the new company was underway. He is to be president of the company, it is understood. The prices to be paid by the new company, it is stated, are practically the valuations fixed upon them by the commission. The final valuation of the Seymour plant has not been definitely determined and $80,000 was agreed upon as a tentative price, it is stated.

Conservation Rules in Middle West May be Necessary for Another Month.

SITUATION IN ILLINOIS

Railroads Prepared to Rush Empty Cars to Mines to Avoid Possible Shipping Delay.

By United Press Chicago, December 11—Fuel restrictions continued in force throughout the middle west today. Officials of the railroad and fuel administrations said regulations would be necessary for at least a month and no general lifting of the ban on industry and trade could be expected immediately, despite the end of the coal strike.

Although some shipments from Illinois mines may arrive in Chicago next week, release on a large scale cannot be expected before Christmas, according to experts. Railroad administration officials arranged to rush all empty cars to the mine fields at once so that the least possible delay might be avoided when production actually starts.

NEW CRISIS THREATENED IN U. S.-MEXICAN RELATIONS

Carranza Said to Have Prevented Drilling of Oil by Americans on Their Leases.

By United Press Washington, December 11—A new crisis in the relations between the United States and Mexico was threatening it appeared today due to the alleged action of the Carranza government in preventing the drilling of new oil wells by American companies. Secret negotiations are in progress between this government and Mexico City, it was reported. The United States notes are not being made public because the matter is domestic to Mexico. It was reported that within the last six months three notes from the state department to Carranza regarding the oil situation had been ignored by Carranza.

WILSON CONGRATULATES LEWIS ON SETTLEMENT

President Asks Cooperation in Securing Final and Speedy Adjustment.

By United Press Washington, Dec. 11—"We must all work together to see that a settlement just and fair to everyone is reached without delay," said President Wilson today in a telegram to John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, expressing appreciation of the "patriotic action" in ending the strike.

Announcement of members of the commission to investigate miners' wages and operators profits will be made at the White House after Attorney General Palmer returns to Washington late today or tomorrow. White House officials stated definitely that the third man on the commission would not be connected with the government.

MINERS DIVIDED ON ACTION TAKEN

Some Telegrams to National Headquarters Condemn Acceptance of President's Proposal.

OTHERS APPROVE PROGRAM

International Officials Turn Attention to Convention To Be Called Shortly.

By United Press Indianapolis, Dec. 11—Telegraphic messages were received in large numbers at the national headquarters of the United Mine Workers today. Some condemning and other approving the action of the leaders yesterday in accepting President Wilson's proposal to end the strike.

Reports were contained in some of the messages that certain groups of the miners expressed the opinion that the men who met here yesterday were not delegated with the power to call off the strike. Some of them took the view with Frank Farrington, radical in the meeting yesterday, that it would be necessary to call a convention to rescind the strike order.

Official orders were being sent out from headquarters today telling the men to go back to work immediately, pending the investigation to be conducted in the coal industry by the president's tribunal. The orders bore the official seal of the union.

International officials of the union turned their attention today to the convention to be held here soon to take final action on the president's proposal.

The international convention in Cleveland in September ordered the men to strike if the operators did not accede to their demands for a sixty percent increase and a thirty hour week by November 1. The proposal yesterday gave them a fourteen percent increase.

Immediately after the decision was reached yesterday to accept the Wilson proposition, international officials went to their headquarters and directed the dispatch of the following message to 4,000 local unions.

"Conference of all district representatives United Mine Workers of America decided today to accept proposition submitted by President Wilson providing for immediate increase fourteen percent on mining prices, day work and dead work, and appointment of commission to decide upon our demands for further increase in wages and settlement of other questions in dispute. In view of this decision all United Mine Workers are instructed and directed to resume work immediately. Circulars containing full explanation and further instructions follows: "John L. Lewis, acting president. "William Green, secretary-treasurer."

In some localities the men were reported back at work this morning. In others they were awaiting receipt of the order through the mails, which will bear the official seal on the union. Mine in practically all districts, however, were expected to be operating under a full schedule by the first of next week.

Everyone concerned with the meeting yesterday expressed satisfaction over the strike settlement. Attorney General A. Mitchel Palmer, who submitted the president's proposition to Lewis and Green in Washington, was here watching every move. He was elated. The bituminous operators association as well as the union chiefs also issued statements saying they were pleased.

Even the "radicals" considered the result of the conference gratifying. They felt satisfied with the concession that a convention would be called to order to consider the proposition just as soon as normal production is resumed.

THE MINERS' STRIKE.

The miners' strike is ended so far as negotiations between the union leaders and the government are concerned. The operators had previously stated that they would accept any proposal made by the government that was "within reason." It is presumed, therefore, that the production of coal will be resumed without further delay and that normal output by the mines will be reached early next week.

Now that the strike is ended the miners are in a position to review their action and determine if the results were worth the cost. They are accepting an increase in wages of fourteen percent, the same proposal that was made weeks ago. They have accomplished nothing but what could have been gained by them if they had continued their work.

On the other side of the ledger the miners have lost millions of dollars in wages during the five weeks and five days that they were out of work. Hundreds of factories have been forced to close because of the fuel famine and thousands of workmen who were in no way responsible for the dispute between the miners and the operators have been thrown out of work, adding additional thousands of dollars to the enormous loss. Many individuals have experienced suffering from the coal and countless others have been inconvenienced. And the worst feature of the whole situation is that the miners have created a prejudice which will be hard for them to overcome.

The miners' strike is a forceful example of the folly of such methods of settling disputes. How much better it would have been for the miners, the operators and the public if Lenora Everhart has gone to North Vernon to spend a few days with relatives.

Mrs. Henry Helpenstine of Hayden, spent Wednesday shopping in this city.

Miss Frances Platter of North Vernon, visited in this city Wednesday.

When the miners' representatives assembled in a hall that was not heated because of coal conservation rules effective in Indianapolis they lost little time in reaching a decision to end the strike.

Mrs. Ralph McClintock returned to her home in Sparksville Wednesday afternoon after a visit with Mrs. E. H. Miller.

We Do "Printing That Pleases."

the controversy would have been settled before the walkout was called! The result of the miners' strike and the hardship and suffering it caused will doubtless have a good effect for years to come. But the experience has been costly for everybody.

Morning shoppers is becoming increasingly popular this year. Local people are finding many advantages for visiting the stores before noon. They avoid much of the rush and crush which attend afternoon shopping. Trading is more satisfactory to the buyers as well as to the clerks as both have more time than when the stores are crowded.

And now there is another reason for a happy Christmas season.

At any rate the miners' chiefs reached a decision to end the strike

GERMAN CAPITALISTS ARE OPPOSED TO NEW LAW

Workmen Would Be Given Right to Examine Books and Records of Corporations.

By United Press

Berlin, December 11—Germany's capitalists are already laying their plans to thwart the workmen when the workers' council law giving labor a voice in industrial management becomes effective.

As drafted, the law gives workers a right to examine the corporation books at the end of each year. Presumably such a right would immediately lead to demands for greater participation in the company's profits when these were high.

But the big corporations do not propose to have their balances appear big at the end of the year.

Instead, they will show the workmen either "doctored" balances or will form sort of holding companies whose business it will be to take the parent corporations' products at a comparatively low price and to then resell them at a normal rate. On the books of the first corporation—the books which the workmen of the councils will see—the company will appear to have made a smaller profit than it did in reality.

That such plans are a foot was quite openly admitted by one of the nation's prominent industrial leaders, and this statement was confirmed by other men in touch with industrial and legislative affairs. In fact, when steps were under way to get the democrats to approve the book-examination portion of the law, interested legislators merely told their democratic colleagues that they "needn't worry; the workers wouldn't be able to make a case out of any big corporation books."

Part of this planned deception is for the benefit of foreign countries. Of course, in the first instance it is Bio-feren is without doubt the grandest and quickest remedy for nervous, run down, weak, anemic men and women ever offered direct through the druggists and is not at all expensive.

Take two after each meal and one at bed time, and after seven days take one after each meal and one at bed time until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if you are not in better health—if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen minded, yes, twice as much as you did before, the druggist who sold you the tablets will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand, or can easily get it for you.

Seven a day for seven days—Wonderful results.

WHEN A WOMAN

feels all run-down, weak or dizzy—when she feels tired before the day is begun—she should turn to the right womanly tonic.

La Fayette, Ind.:—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription" was of great comfort to me during middle age. Whenever I felt melancholy, or had blinding dizzy spells or hot flashes, I would take the "Prescription" for a few days and it never failed to give me just the necessary relief. I also used the "Healing Suppositories" at this time and think they are splendid. About twelve years ago I wrote to the Faculty of the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for advice and received special medicines from the laboratory that helped me wonderfully for certain womanly weaknesses. I appreciate the advice given me and also the inexpressiveness of the specially prepared medicines."—MRS. ELSIE A. PORTER, 612 So. First St.

Hot-Flashes—Dizzy Spells

Kokomo, Ind.:—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription" was of great help to me at the critical time of life. I suffered with hot flashes and dizzy spells and it was because my mother had been relieved by the use of the "Favorite Prescription" that I decided to take it. I took several bottles and have always been very glad that I did because it certainly did all that I wanted it to."

—MRS. RULE GRAY, 920 N. Webster St. Bluffton, Ind.:—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and his Golden Medical Discovery proved wonderfully beneficial to me about eighteen years ago. For months before I started to take these medicines I was in very miserable condition. For about eight weeks I had hemorrhages. I doctored with two doctors who did not seem to understand the nature of my trouble and they talked to me about an examination. I took three bottles of each, but the very first bottle stopped the hemorrhages and then I commenced to gain in every way."—MRS. JOHN VERNON, 215 E. Wiley Av.

based on the desire of the big industrialists not to share their profits extensively with the laborers. But in the second place—and this is by no means a minor consideration with the German industrial captain—the promoter wants to impress America and other nations with the idea that this new system of labor's participation in management of industry doesn't mean complete socialization. Americans who have viewed the German industrial situation and pondered particularly over the law have gained the impression that Germany was fast heading to the point where the worker would have practically all the "say" and—all the profits.

The majority socialists—and among them men identified with German labor unions—believe in slow socialization. And the industrial captains are seeing to it that—law or no law—they shall not have their grip on things entirely wrested from their hands.

"KILAUEA'S LAKE ON FIRE" AT PRINCESS

Another New Prizma Natural Color Film To Be Shown Thursday and Friday.

Is there any psychological difference between motion picture audiences in Seymour and those in New York, Chicago and other large cities? Manager McCanahughy of the Princess theatre expects to have an answer to this question after the showing of the new Prizma natural color film, "Kilauea's Lake on Fire" which will be the feature attraction at that theatre today and Friday.

This picture is the first of a series of Prizma films which will be shown at the Princess during the next few weeks. Its first appearance on the screen in New York and Chicago and one or two other places, created in unusual psychological reaction from the audiences. The reaction was caused by the startling beauty and absolute truthfulness to Nature of the picture itself and also by the sheer, amazing wonder of such a tremendous monstrosity as a lake of red-hot, molten lava cupped in a crater wall nine miles in circumference.

AUDITOR LUEDTKE FILES SUIT TO RECOVER MONEY

Trustee of Salt Creek Township is Made Defendant in Case Filed in Circuit Court.

Albert Luedtke, auditor of Jackson county, has filed suit in the Jackson circuit court against Theo. Davis, trustee of Salt Creek township, in which he seeks to recover excess money which has since been apportioned to Pershing township.

The complaint alleges that after the county commissioners divided Salt Creek township last spring and created Pershing township, an appeal was taken in the matter. While the appeal was pending the trustee of Salt Creek township demanded that he be paid $4,728.73, taxes due Salt Creek township before it was divided. Mr. Luedtke paid Trustee Davis the full amount with the understanding that if any change was made that the amount set aside as taxes and belonging to Pershing township should be refunded. The court later decided that of the $4,

SOCIAL EVENTS

MEYERS-BURCHAM.

One of the most beautiful of the weddings of the late autumn was that of Miss Vina Meyers and Marshall P. Burcham, which took place at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the bride's home, 417 East Fifth street. Rev. C. E. Packler, pastor of the English Lutheran church, Indianapolis, pronounced the ceremony. Only the immediate relatives were in attendance.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of Pekin blue charmeuse trimmed with fur and carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses and greenery.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held, after which the bride and groom left for a few days' visit in Indianapolis and other points. The bride's traveling suit was of dark blue tricotine with small hat and accessories to match. The bride and groom are both prominent young people of this county. Mrs. Burcham has been associated with the Seymour Dressmakers for a number of years and has a large number of friends. The groom who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Burcham, is a well known farmer of Driftwood township.

After their return to this city they will make their home at the bride's home until spring.

CHRISTMAS PARTY.

Among the first Christmas parties of the season, was the one given Wednesday evening in the Court of Honor hall by the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks. During the early Recording Secy.—F. A. Trotter.

 Following the business session the meeting adjourned for a Christmas party and dance. The hall was elaborately decorated with Christmas decorations. In the center of the hall a Christmas tree had been arranged, and the gifts were placed around the tree. Each guest received a gift.

The thirty-five persons present were all seated at one large table which was lighted with red and green candles and decorated with Santa Claus and other Christmas decorations. A dinner was served which consisted of ham sandwiches, meat loaf, perfection salad, stuffed olives, pudding with sauce, angel food cake and coffee. The favors were small red stockings filled with candies.

COPY OF OFFICIAL ORDER RECEIVED

istration took official action and these restrictive measures are practically the same as those provided for in the Garfield regulations.

Section two of the order reads as follows: "No cabaret, dance hall, pool room or bowling alley shall be permitted to use light, except between 7 p. m. and 11 p. m."

Mayor Burkart and Mr. Jones considered this section carefully and decided that there was no alternative except to order the pool rooms to comply with the regulation. This means, it is stated, that the pool rooms may keep open during the day time but they will not be permitted to use electricity until 7 o'clock at night and the lights must be turned off not later than 11 o'clock. Mayor Burkart sent orders to the proprietors of the six pool rooms in this city to comply with the federal regulation immediately.

The section which regulates the use of electricity in retail stores reads differently from that affecting pool rooms. Section three states "stores including retail stores but excepting stores selling food and warehouses must not use light except safety lights except for six hours per day." It will be noticed that this order does not limit the time when the stores shall be permitted to use the light providing only that the lights must not be used for longer than six hours a day. This section is interpreted to mean that the merchants may open and close their stores at any time they desire with the distinct understanding that light will not be used for more than six hours.

A number of merchants have made inquiry of Mayor Burkart as to whether or not they will be permitted to keep open after 6 o'clock next week as has been the custom in former years during the heavy holiday trading season. Mayor Burkart believes that there is nothing in the federal order which will preclude the stores from keeping open during the evenings. Mr. Jones holds the same opinion as does Mayor Burkart.

As yet the merchants have not taken action as a body on the matter of keeping their stores open evenings next week but it is generally understood that they intend to do so if such a decision would not violate the federal fuel order. It is pointed out that the federal administration order does not state that the lights shall be burned between certain hours as specified in the section governing pool rooms and bowling allies. However, local fuel administration officials are of the opinion that display windows must be kept dark and the lights on all electric signs turned off until the present emergency has passed.

Supper will be served at the high school building beginning at 6 o'clock and lasting throughout the evening. The public is urged to take their Saturday evening's meal at the fair and help the high school.

A minstrel according to those who have witnessed a few of the rehearsals is the best home talent ever staged in this city, will be given beginning at 8 o'clock. The end men include "Billy" Geile, who has won much fame as a minstrel man in this and surrounding cities, Riley Whitman, Robert Keach and Felix Cadon assisted by a large chorus and N. R. ## MODEL IRRIGATION FARM AT EXHIBIT

Methods of Watering Crops and Orchards Shown—Water Measured by Wheelmeter.

By United Press

Melbourne, Dec. 11—One of the most unusual exhibits ever offered in an agricultural show will be the 50 acre model irrigation farm to be featured at the Royal Agricultural society's show soon.

The whole design planned by R. W. Harvis, a member of the water commission, will be put into execution by government officers. The site for the farm has already been chosen, and upon it will be shown the methods of watering crops and trees and the practices generally adopted in irrigation districts.

Land has been subdivided, channelled and graded in a manner suitable for horticulture and mixed farming, embracing dairying, lucerne-growing, pig and poultry raising, and the production of vegetables and fruits. Water will be measured by a new registering wheelmeter. Special buildings will also be constructed upon the site.

KAISER MONUMENT IS NOW AMERICAN MEMORIAL

Polish People Add Inscription and Turn Monument into One of Praise for Allies.

By United Press

Tarnopol, Poland, Dec. 11—The German monument erected in honor of the kaiser's visit to Tarnopol in 1917 has been turned into an allied memorial.

Instead of destroying the monument, as the Germans did with all allied memorials, the Polish people have simply added their inscription to that of the Germans and turned the monument into one of praise for the allied forces.

During the occupation by the German troops the huge monument was erected, bearing the inscription, "William II, Emperor of Germany and King of Prussia, stopped here on July 28, 1917."

It was a division of Polish-Americans, members of the French army, that took the town for the Poles, and they simply added this inscription, "and on July 4, 1919, the Sixth Division of American Chasseurs entered the town. They stayed."

Woodstock Church.

The services at the Woodstock church Wednesday evening were well attended and much interest was shown. Eight persons have accepted Christ and one came by letter since the meetings began.

Come tonight and bring your friends. You may in this way bring them to Christ. Special music by the men, preaching by Rev. E. A. Hayward, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Simpser returned Wednesday afternoon from Holton where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Simpser's brother, Ernest Shaw, who was instantly killed Saturday night when struck by a train. Mr. Shaw had many friends in this city who regret to hear of his sudden death.

I followed her closely, a mere shadow, as she silently led the way along the edge of the wood and back of the negro quarters. I felt confident of being able safely to approach the unsuspecting engineer and overcome any resistance before he could realize the possibility of attack. I was obliged to rely upon a guess at the time of night, yet surely it could not be long after twelve and there must remain hours of darkness amply sufficient for our purpose. With the boat once securely in our possession the engineer compelled to serve, for I had no skill in that line, we could strike out directly for the opposite shore and creep along in its shadows past the sleeping town at the Landing until we attained the deserted waters above. By then we should practically be beyond immediate pursuit. Even if Carver or the sheriff discovered Kirby, any immediate chase by river would be impossible. Nothing was available for their use except a few rowboats at the Landing; they would know nothing as to whether we had gone up or down stream, while the coming of the early daylight would surely permit us to discover some place of concealment along the desolate Illinois shore. Desperate as the attempt undoubtedly was the situation as I considered it in all its details brought me faith in our success and fresh encouragement to make the effort.

We moved forward slowly. I took the lead myself, bending low and feeling carefully for footing in the wiry grass. The darkness so shrouded everything, blending objects into shapeless shadows, that it required several moments before I could clearly determine the exact details. The mouth of the creek, a good-sized stream, was only a few yards away, and the boat, rather a larger craft than I had anticipated seeing, lay just off shore, with stern to the bank, as though prepared for instant departure. It was securely held in position by a rope, probably looped about a convenient stump, and my eyes were finally able to trace the outlines of the wheel by which it was propelled. Except for straggling rushes extending to the edge of the water, the space between was vacant yet sufficiently mantled in darkness to enable one to creep forward unseen.

At first glance I could distinguish no sign of the boatman left in charge, but even as I lay there, breathless and uncertain, he suddenly revealed his presence by lighting a lantern in the stern. The illumination was feeble enough yet sufficient to expose to view the small, unprotected engine aft, and also the fact that all forward of the little cockpit in which it stood the entire craft was decked over. The fellow was busily engaged in overhauling the machinery, leaning far forward, his body indistinct, the lantern swinging in one hand, with entire attention devoted to his task. Occasionally, as he lifted his head for some purpose, the dim radiance fell upon his face, revealing the unmistakable countenance of a mulatto, a fellow of medium size, broad of cheek, with unusually full lips and a fringe of whisker turning gray. Somehow this revelation that he was a negro and not a white man brought with it to me an additional confidence in success. I inclined my head and whispered in the girl's ear:

"You are not to move from here until I call. This is to be my part of the work, handling that lad. I am going now."

"He is colored, is he not—a slave?" "We can only guess as to that. But he does not look to me like a hard proposition. If I can only reach the boat without being seen the rest will be easy. Now is the proper time, while he is busy tinkering with the engine. You will stay here?"

"Yes, of course; I—I could be of no help."

She suddenly held out her hand, as though impelled to the action by some swift impulse, and the warm pressure of her fingers meant more than words. I could not see the expression on her face, yet knew the slender body was trembling nervously.

"Surely you are not afraid?"

"Oh, no; it is not that—I am all unstrung. You must not think of me at all."

I realized the gravity of my task, and my eyes were watchful of the shrouded figure I was silently approaching. I drew nearer inch by inch, advancing so slowly and snake-like that not even the slightest sound of movement aroused suspicion. Apparently the fellow was engaged in oiling the machinery, for he had placed the lantern on deck and held a long-spouted can in his fingers. His back remained toward me as I drew

Why a Chalmers Starts Quickly on a Cold Day

YOU can let a Hot Spot Chalmers stand in the cold all day and then step on the starter button and—almost instantly—the engine is running.

No long wait, no running down of the battery, no lost temper. Instead, quick action.

In a few moments the engine is running with rare smoothness, minus backfire and "coughing." It is "firing on all six."

Hot Spot and Ram's-horn are responsible for the quick starting in a Chalmers.

Hot Spot vaporizes the raw gas to a fine point; and Ram's-horn hurries it quickly and evenly to the cylinders.

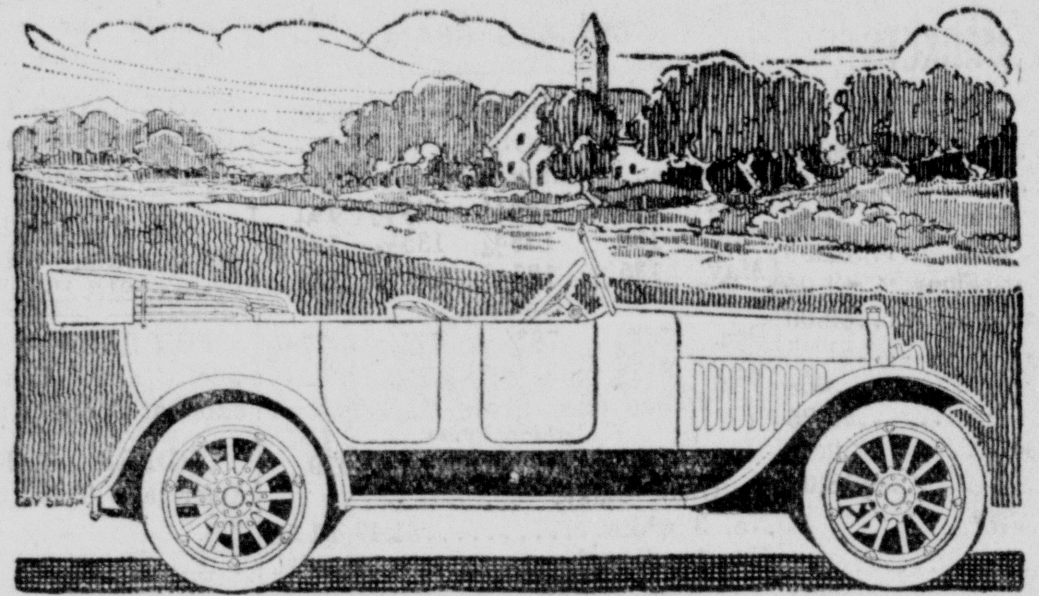

So that there is full ignition and hence quick power and smooth power.

near the stern, and consequently I no longer had a glimpse of his face. The wooden wheel of the boat, a clumsy-appearing apparatus, rested almost directly against the bank, where the water was evidently deep enough to float the vessel, and the single rope holding it in position was drawn taut from the pressure of the current. Waiting until the man was compelled to bend lower over his work, utterly unconscious of my presence, I straightened up and, pistol in hand, stepped upon the wooden beam supporting the wheel. He must have heard this movement, for he lifted his head quickly, yet was even then too late; already I had gained the afterdeck, and my weapon was on a level with his eyes.

"Don't move or cry out!" I commanded sternly. "Obey orders and you will not be hurt."

He shrank away, sinking upon the bench, his face upturned so that the light fell full upon it, for the instant too greatly surprised and frightened to give utterance to a sound. His mouth hung open, and his eyes stared at me.

"Who—who was yer? Whatcha want yer?"

"I am asking questions and you are answering them. Are you armed? All right, then; hand it over. Now put out that light."

He did exactly as I told him, moving as though paralyzed by fear, yet unable to resist.

"You are a negro—a slave?" "Yes, sah; Ah's Massa Donaldson's boy from St. Louee."

"He is the sheriff?" "Yes, sah—yas, sah. What is Massa Donaldson? Yer ain't done bin sent yere by him, I reckon. 'Pears like I never see yer afore."

"No; but he is quite safe. What is your name?"

"Sam, sah—just plain Sam."

"Well, Sam, I understand you are an engineer. Now, it happens that I want to use this boat, and you are going to run it for me, do you understand? I am going to sit down here on the edge of this cockpit and hold this loaded pistol just back of your ear. It might go off at any minute, and surely will if you make a false move or attempt to foul the engine. Any rick, and there is going to be a dead nigger overboard. I know enough about engines to tell if you play fair—so don't take any chances, boy."

"Ah—Ah—reckon as how I was goin' fer ter run her all right, sah; she's sum considerable contrary et times, sah, but Ah'll surely run her, if that's any run in her, sah. Ah ain't carin' 'bout bein' no corpse."

"I thought not; you'd rather be a free nigger, perhaps? Well, Sam, if you will do this job all right for me tonight I'll put you where the sheriff will never see hide nor hair of you again—no, not yet; wait a moment, there is another passenger."

She came instantly in answer to my low call, and through the gloom the startled negro watched her descend the bank, a mere moving shadow, yet with the outlines of a woman. I half believe he thought her a ghost, for I could hear him muttering inarticulately to himself. I dared not remove my eyes from the fellow, afraid that his very excess of fear might impel him to some reckless act, but I extended one hand across the side of the boat to her assistance.

"Take my hand, Rene," I said pleasantly, to reassure her, "and come aboard. Yes, everything is all right. I've just promised Sam here a ticket for Canada."

CONSIDER THIS WOMAN'S CASE

Mrs. A. L. DeVine of Los Angeles, Cal., says: "After I had suffered from a female trouble for years, not being able to do my housework, or get any relief from doctors, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I want to tell the world the good this medicine does." This woman is perfectly justified, and should be commended for telling others how she regained her health.
